Students were acquainted with the knowledge of IQ i.e. a measure of an individual's intelligence—their ability to learn and synthesize information. Individuals need a certain level of intelligence to function in life and do their jobs effectively and Emotional intelligence, measured as EQ (emotional quotient), is the ability to identify and manage your emotions and the emotions of others. It helps you navigate and manage tough personalities at work while guiding your ability to display empathy, demonstrate active listening, and work successfully as part of a team.
